Day One: Arrival in Dublin. Airport meet-and-greet with your culinary guide/driver for the duration of the program. Enjoy tea/coffee and scones on arrival at your hotel. After a light lunch in a local pub, enjoy a private guided walking tour of Trinity College and see the Book of Kells. Late afternoon at leisure. Dinner at Patrick Guilbaud, one of Dublin's top restaurants. Accommodation: The Shelbourne, a Dublin landmark overlooking magnificent St. Stephen's Green that was built in 1924 and recently restored

Day Two: Morning off-the-beaten-path Epicurean Walking Tour in Dublin, Europe's most compact capital. You will experience everyday food markets, fine Irish cheese, visits with tastings at the Guinness Storehouse and the Jameson Distillery and more. Enjoy dinner and a high-end whiskey tasting this evening at the Library at Number 6. Accommodation: The Shelbourne

Day Three: Day excursion to Wicklow, south of Dublin, for an interactive epicurean day at Ballyknocken Cookery School. On arrival, you will be greeted by the owner of the house, Catherine Fulvio, who is very well known and highly regarded in Irish culinary circles. With Catherine, you will prepare some of Ireland's finest traditional dishes, followed by lunch. Dinner this evening and wine tasting at Berry Bros and Rudd, Dublin's top wine emporium featuring more than 800 labels. Accommodation: The Shelbourne

Day Four: Morning transfer with your guide/driver to the southern coast and the town of Kinsale, widely considered to be the culinary capital of Ireland. En route (3 hours from Dublin), stop at Cork city for lunch at Greene's, one of the city's finest restaurants. Following lunch, enjoy a guided visit to The Butter Museum and the English Market, which dates to 1610. Continue 30 minutes to the coast to the delightful seaside town of Kinsale. Dinner at Man Friday's Restaurant. Accommodation: The Old Bank House, a 17-room luxury B&B located waterside in a former Georgian residence in the center of Kinsale

Day Five: Today, experience the Ballymaloe Cookery School - one of Ireland's most famous places of culinary excellence. Experience a cookery demonstration followed by hands-on cooking lesson focused on the preparation of a complete meal that will also serve as your lunch. Tour the very fine gardens at Ballymaloe. Dinner at Jim Edwards Restaurant in Kinsale. Accommodation : The Old Bank House

Day Six: Today you will enjoy an epicurean tour of West Cork, famous for its many farmhouse cheese makers. Visit Clonakilty, home of the famous Black pudding, along with the towns of Ballydehob, Schull and Skibbereen, which are pockets of exceptional local gourmet and organic food. You will visit local cheese makers and enjoy a gourmet tasting in Mannings Emporium of cheese, salamis and chocolates. Continue on to Kenmare for afternoon tea at the Park Hotel Kenmare (a CORK & FORK favorite) and then to Killarney. Dinner at Gaby's Seafood. Accommodation: Killarney Park Hotel, an outstanding five-star property regarded as one of Ireland's finest hotels

Day Seven: Experience the beauty of County Kerry via a guided tour of the breathtaking Ring of Kerry. En route, enjoy a sheepdog demonstration and an Irish Coffee in Caitin Bakers traditional pub. Lunch will be in Waterville at the Smugglers Inn overlooking the Atlantic Ocean. In the afternoon, stop for tea/coffee and scones in Sneem for a taste of local hospitality. Dinner in Killarney at Rozzers in the Killeen House Hotel. Accommodation: Killarney Park Hotel

Day Eight: Start the day with a jaunting car ride from Killarney to Muckross House and take in a visit of the house. Enjoy the craft shops on the estate followed by a traditional Irish pub lunch at Molly Darcy's. Afternoon at leisure in Killarney with tea at Miss Courtney's Tea Rooms, an experience you won't forget! Dinner at Lord Kenmare's. Accommodation: Killarney Park Hotel

Day Nine: Private transfer from Killarney to Adare via the spectacular Dingle Peninsula. Travel around the Sleat Head Drive, which juts out into the Atlantic Ocean. Continue to Louis Mulcahy's pottery shop and then enjoy a spot of gourmet lunch at O'Gorman's Clifftop Restaurant. Enjoy epicurean visits in the town of Dingle. Continue on to Adare to the beautiful Adare Manor Hotel. Dinner in the hotel's Oak Room restaurant. Accommodation: Adare Manor Hotel, Ireland's top castle hotel set in the midst of a lovely, 840-acre estate

Day Ten: Enjoy a day in County Clare. Visit the towering Cliffs of Moher, and the Burren limestone area. Take in a visit to the Burren Smokehouse for a tour and tastings of some of the finest smoked salmon in Ireland. Lunch at the Roadside Tavern, one of the oldest pubs in the area. Continue back to Adare and dine off property at the Mustard Seed at Echo Lodge in Ballingarry. Accommodation: Adare Manor Hotel
